Why These Four?

- They were chosen, not installed. Four county offices had one name each on the primary ballot. Voters picked up a pen and changed that.
- Accountability you can feel. Leaders who face voters answer to voters. They will hold open office hours and publish what they do.
- Public safety, done right. A Sheriff and Coroner who protect residents, respect rights, and tell families the truth.
- Your money, handled with care. A Treasurer and Clerk focused on efficient service, honest records, and zero waste.
- Skagit first. Farmers, small business, and rural neighbors deserve a county government that knows their lives, not just their tax bill.

THE PRIMARY GAVE SKAGIT FOUR REAL CHOICES. THE GENERAL DECIDES THEM.

All four names are printed on your November ballot.
No write-in line. No excuses. Just fill in the oval.

FOR CORONER

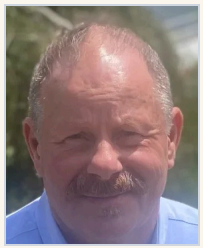
Derrill Fussell

A lifelong Skagit man, Derrill farmed the Valley for twelve years and raised his children in Mount Vernon before a career of extraordinary national service. He held the highest security clearance granted to a civilian in the nation, serving in sensitive roles at the White House West Wing and the Pacific Naval Command Center. A retired high-tech CEO and U.S. patent holder for the removable hard drive, he brings integrity, discretion, and steady judgment. His mission as Coroner is simple: treat every family with dignity and give them clear, compassionate answers for closure. https://fussellforcoroner.com/

Skagit grown. Nationally trusted. Home to serve.

FOR TREASURER

Tim 'Timothy' Garrison



Tim brings more than 50 years of public and private accounting experience as a private accountant, tax consultant, and CPA candidate. He holds a BA in Accounting from the University of Washington and an MBA in Finance, plus a paralegal certificate from Skagit Valley College and Washington State Master Gardener credentials. He has launched and overseen dozens of business ventures, managing up to 80 sets of books while analyzing operations for efficiency and performance. A father of four, Tim will bring disciplined, transparent, and accountable stewardship to the county's finances.

FOR SHERIFF

Cody Hart

A government watchdog, military veteran, college graduate, and proud father of three, Cody has been committed to Skagit County for decades. His investigative work exposing public-official corruption, the misuse of millions in public funds, and election crimes is well known across the county, and even earned a personal letter of thanks from President Donald Trump. Drawing on hands-on experience in our county, state, and federal courts, he is uniquely qualified to restore accountability in the Sheriff's Office, protect Skagit children, and rebuild the public's faith in the rule of law. https://codyhart.org/

Accountability · Public Safety · Rule of Law.

FOR CLERK

Amanda Toscano

A lifelong Skagit County resident, proud wife, mother of three, and grandmother, Amanda truly cares about this community. Over the past ten years as a local real estate agent, with a background in customer service and retail management, she built her career on staying organized, communicating clearly, and keeping accurate records. She values teamwork, accountability, and showing up for others. A determined advocate, Amanda has fought through the federal courts to keep polluting lithium battery banks out of the Valley, and is committed to serving with care, transparency, and reliability.
